A Message from the Coordinator of Alumni and Parent Communications

I am pleased to welcome you to the Wabash College community. We are honored that you and your son have chosen to join us. As your son embarks on this exciting journey, he will be afforded endless opportunities for intellectual and personal growth, both inside and outside the classroom.

We realize that this handbook may not answer all your questions and concerns, so we encourage you to please contact us. You are now part of the Wabash family and community.

I am the on-campus liaison for parents of current students and alumni. If you have any questions or concerns or are interested in the Parents' Program, please contact me at parents@wabash.edu, tatarm@wabash.edu or 765-361-6369.

If you would like to receive the montly e-newsletter, The Parents Post, just send me your email address. You can find me in the Bill and Ginny Hays Alumni Center on West Wabash Avenue. I look forward to meeting you here on campus.

A Message from the Dean of Students

Two characteristics make Wabash a truly distinctive college: the level of trust we place in our students and the responsibility we give them. The single College rule, the Gentleman's Rule, symbolizes this trust, while the small Student Life staff requires that students assume responsibility for managing much of their daily lives.

We expect our students to act as gentlemen and responsible citizens and to participate daily in defining what our community means by these terms. We expect them also to make many important decisions about their academic, residential, and social lives at Wabash. Most students make good decisions most of the time. Occasionally a few students make poor ones. Our students learn from both kinds of decisions.

We believe that students learn best when given freedom and responsibility for making their own decisions. The consequences of those decisions should be the students'. Therefore, for the most part, Wabash will work directly with your son regarding the decisions he makes, unless the matter requires notification of parents.

If you have questions or concerns about your son, please call me at (765-361-6310). Otherwise, the College's correspondence with you is likely to be limited to semiannual tuition bills, annual invitations to Parents' Weekend, and that final, glorious invitation to Commencement.

All of us at Wabash look forward to working with your son in the coming year.

Tom Bambrey '68 Dean of Students

Rule of Conduct: The Gentleman's Rule

Perhaps the most striking aspect of student life at Wabash is personal freedom. Believing that students ought to develop self-reliance and personal responsibility, the College has long prescribed only one rule of conduct:

The student is expected to conduct himself, at all times, both on and off the campus, as a gentleman and a responsible citizen.

This simple, yet all-encompassing, rule allows the Wabash student exceptional personal freedom and requires of him commensurate personal responsibility, which together we believe are essential parts of his education and development.

Since Wabash is fundamentally an intellectual community, the faculty has defined the operation of the rule in instances of plagiarism and cheating. The first offense results in a penalty determined by the course instructor; the penalty for the second offense is expulsion from the College.

Faculty Statement of Principle Concerning Diversity

We, the Faculty of Wabash College, affirm that our community should embrace both diversity and freedom of speech. While in no way wishing to abridge the free exchange of ideas, we believe that comments, written or spoken, and actions that threaten or embarrass people because of their race, gender, religion, occupation, sexual orientation, national origin, physical disability, or ethnic group hurt all of us. Such insensitivity to any individual or group betrays the spirit of the liberal arts. We invite students, staff, and administration to join us in fostering an environment of mutual respect.

A History of Wabash College

Wabash College has educated young men since its founding in 1832, just 11 years after the first settlers arrived in what is now Montgomery County, Indiana. The nine clergymen and laymen who founded Wabash College recognized the need for teachers and for ministers in the wilderness

Asking God to bless their venture, the founders constructed a building and hired a teacher. Crawfordsville English and Classical High School thus opened its doors to the first class of 12 students taught by Caleb Mills on December 3, 1833, in Forest Hall. Today, Caleb Mills' bell is rung to welcome each class to Wabash and to mark its Commencement. The original building, Forest Hall, relocated to the north part of campus, is home to the offices of Teacher Education.

A few months after that first class, the young institution became the Wabash Manual Labor College and Teacher's Seminary and received a charter from the State of Indiana. Although the school was commonly known as Wabash College, it was not until 1851 that the original charter was amended and the name officially changed to Wabash College.

Elihu Baldwin, the first President of the College, was installed in 1835, three years after instruction began. He believed in and championed the liberal arts education which continues to guide the Wabash curriculum.

Speaking of the College in his Inaugural Address, January 29, 1994, Wabash's 14th president Andrew T. Ford said, "Wabash is not simply a four-year college for men; Wabash is a lifetime experience for men and their families. It is not simply a four-year liberal arts program; Wabash is the beginning of one's independent life. It is not merely preparation for the real world; Wabash is participation in the real world. It is not rules, regulations, and judicial procedures; Wabash is trust, responsibility, and caring. It is not unique because it is a college for men; Wabash is unique in the candor, rigor, and caring of the classroom experience. Wabash is above all about making men better."

Today, 175 years after our founding, Wabash continues to educate young men in the liberal arts tradition. Our graduates leave this campus even better men than when they arrived and go into the world to make it better for all of us.

Preamble to the Curriculum

We, the Faculty of Wabash College, believe in a liberal arts education. We believe that it leads people to freedom, helps them choose worthy goals and shows them the way to an enduring life of the mind. With its ideals in view, we have designed our curriculum according to the following principles:

The graduate in the liberal arts has pondered ideas as they come to him out of the ages of human thought. He has watched their myriad forms in the great works of philosophy, history, theology, mathematics, arts, and literature. He has seen how the natural sciences try to answer the crucial questions of man, and he has himself taken part in their meticulous labor.

He has shared the endeavor of social science to probe the nature of man and the world he builds, and he has practiced its methods of coping with human conflicts and social needs.

In the study of foreign civilizations and people, he has found himself not only the creature of his time and place but a citizen of the world-wide human community.

He has learned to read, to write and to speak clearly and creatively, and he has begun to acquire the skills that will qualify him for increasing leadership in his vocation.

We, the Faculty, believe that these principles are indispensable to the teaching to which we devote our careers. And we believe that to follow them will enable the graduates of Wabash College to judge thoughtfully, act effectively, and live humanely in a difficult world.

The following requirements must be met for graduation:

Freshman Requirement

Sophomore Requirement

Cultures and Traditions, both semesters.

Language Studies

Proficiency in English.

Proficiency in a foreign language.

One additional credit in language studies.

Distribution Courses

Three courses in literature and fine arts.

Three courses in behavioral science (economics, political science, psychology).

Three courses in natural science and mathematics.

One additional credit in quantitative skills.

Two courses in history, philosophy, or religion in addition to the two Cultures and Traditions courses.

Departmental Major, Minor, or Area of Concentration

Normally, a student declares a major area or field of study by the end of the sophomore year and will complete nine to eleven courses in that department. A departmental minor consists of five courses in one department or discipline. Instead of a departmental minor, a student may elect to pursue an interdepartmental area of concentration. Five to eight related courses from two or more disciplines are required for this option.

Minimum Requirements

For graduation students must pass a minimum of 34 semester courses and have at least a 2.00 cumulative grade point average in all approved courses taken for grade at Wabash, with the exception of physical education. At least 24 of these courses must be successfully completed at Wabash.

Written Comprehensive Examinations

Every student must pass a written examination in his major field.

Oral Comprehensive Examinations

Every student must pass a senior oral comprehensive examination.

Academics

Division I

Departments of Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics & Computer Science, and Physics.

Division II

Departments of Art, Classical Languages and Literatures, English, Modern Languages and Literatures, Music, Philosophy, Religion, Rhetoric, and Theater.

Division III

Departments of Economics, History, Political Science, Psychology, and the Teacher Education Program.

Grading System

Semester grades are mailed to the student's home address as soon as possible after the end of each term. In the fall semester only, midsemester grades are mailed home for all freshmen and new transfer students as an indication of the student's progress.

Honors

The faculty has provided for the award of Final Honors to accompany the Bachelor of Arts degree, according to the following requirements (in the graduated four-point grading system):

A.B. Cum Laude: Awarded to students who have attained a cumulative average of 3.40 to 3.59 or a cumulative average of 3.17 to 3.32 and Distinction rating (for double majors, two ratings of Distinction or one rating of Distinction and one of High Pass; for triple major a minimum rating of two Distinctions and one of Pass or one of Distinction and two of High Pass) in Comprehensive Examinations.

A.B. Magna Cum Laude: Awarded to students who have attained a cumulative average of at least 3.60 or a cumulative average of 3.33 to 3.59 and Distinction rating (for a double major two ratings of Distinction or one rating of Distinction and one of High Pass: for triple major a minimum rating of two Distinctions and one of Pass or one of Distinction and two of High Pass) in Comprehensive Examinations.

A.B. Summa Cum Laude: Awarded to students who have attained a cumulative average of at least 3.60 and a Distinction rating (for a double major two ratings of Distinction or one rating of Distinction and one of High Pass; for triple major a minimum rating of two Distinctions and one of Pass or one of Distinction and two of High Pass) in Comprehensive Examinations.

A student's final grade point average is used as the basis for conferring Final Honors.

Dean's List

To honor students for outstanding academic achievement, the Dean of the College each semester names to the Dean's List those students who attain a semester average of at least 3.5.

Phi Beta Kappa

The requirements for election to Phi Beta Kappa at Wabash College are determined by the by-laws of the Wabash Chapter, which consists of Phi Beta Kappa members of the College faculty and staff.

Since 1948 they have permitted the election of not more than one-eighth of the graduating class. The Wabash Chapter, one of the oldest, is not bound by the rule of the United Chapters which permits the election of no more than 10 percent.

It is the normal practice of the Chapter, but not a requirement, to elect the one-eighth of the senior class whose grade averages are highest. The bylaws permit the election of no more than three juniors.

Travel Plans

Before you make travel plans for your son for midsemester breaks or the end of the semester, have your student check his course and exam schedules. Students need to be on campus when classes are in session and are excused only in case of an emergency.

Availability of Records

The Registrar's Office will not release academic information (transcripts, grade averages, class rank, etc.) electronically (telephone, fax, or e-mail) to any individual, including the student. Requests for such information must be submitted in writing bearing the student's signature. Faxed requests are acceptable provided they bear the student's signature. E-mail requests are not acceptable.

Please allow two working days for processing of information and transcript requests.

Replacement diplomas will NOT be issued in any name other than that certified (on record) at the time of graduation.

In compliance with Public law 93-380 (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act), enrolled students may inspect their records in the Registrar's Office upon written request.

Normal Course Loads

A full-time student carries four, four and one-half, or five subjects each semester. Freshmen require the approval of the Dean of Students to drop to a three-course load. If the number of courses is less than three, the student is considered part-time, and he may lose his financial aid. Additionally, part-time students are ineligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics and to enroll in the student health and accident plan.

Continuance in College

For students entering in August, 2000, or thereafter, the requirements are as specified below:

Freshman to sophomore
6 courses and a 1.50 average
Sophomore to junior
14 courses and a 1.70 average
Junior to senior
24 courses and a 1.85 average
To graduate

A student also must earn three credits toward the degree each semester to continue in the College. A freshman, however, may be retained for his second semester if he earns two credits. The Dean of Students is authorized to grant exceptions to this standard based on judgments of a student's performance.

34 courses and a 2.00 average

Directory Information

FERPA permits Wabash to release, without consent, certain directory information, which includes the Wabash student's name, local home and cell phone number, e-mail and electronic messaging address, date and place of birth, age, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, class standing, weight and height of members of athletic teams, honors, awards, and scholarships earned, photographs, dates of attendance, degree received, post-graduate plans, and most recent previous educational agency or institution attended. A Wabash student may request that directory information not be released without prior written consent by filing a written statement with the Wabash Registrar two weeks prior to enrollment.

Off-Campus Study

Off-campus experiences provide opportunities for learning and adapting to new environments. Students may spend an academic semester or summer away, or participate in one of the many faculty-led immersion trips. In addition, Wabash has now created two summer programs, also led by faculty, that take place in early summer. Quito, Ecuador is the site of an intensive Spanish language program in which students have opportunities to learn experience the language, culture, literature, environment, and other aspects of the area. Dill Grants are also available for qualified applicants to research topics of interest during the summer.

Students may apply to a wide range of independent programs or directly to foreign universities. Also, through the member institutions of the Great Lakes Colleges Association (GLCA) and the Associated Colleges of the Midwest (ACM), a number of domestic and foreign programs are available. In recent years Wabash students have successfully completed work in the United States and such countries as Australia, Austria, Belgium, Chile, China, Colombia, England, Ecuador, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Kenya, Peru, Russia, Scotland, Senegal, Spain, Sweden, and Switzerland.

In selecting their program and planning their schedule, students may want to consider pursuing the interdisciplinary International Studies Area of Concentration. This area of concentration requires five courses drawn from a variety of disciplines.

For more details, please check our web site at www.wabash.edu/international

Student Services Academic Advising

Each new student is assigned to a faculty advisor to assist him in the selection of courses, with his class schedule, with other academic matters, and to aid in his adjustment to the College. The Writing Center is helpful to all students in expanding their knowledge and skills. For those who need aid in the natural sciences and mathematics, the Quantitative Skills Center provides tutorial assistance.

Counseling

Counseling services are provided without additional fee to all Wabash students and their spouses. Contact Scott A. Cavins, MA, LMFT, LMHE at 765-361-6252 or cavinss@wabash.edu. After hours/emergencies (317) 840-6096.

Schroeder Center for Career Development

Career Services connects students with information about choosing a career, finding internships, preparing for graduate school, conducting a job search and networking with alumni/employers. Career Services helps all students from their first-year through graduation prepare for life after Wabash.

Visit Career Services online at www. wabash.edu/careers. Learn about events and where alumni have gone post-Wabash by signing up to receive our e-newsletter, Outcomes, on our website.

Room and Board

Students are required to live in College housing (residence halls or fraternities) during their freshman and sophomore years. Approximately two-thirds of the student body live in fraternity houses. Each fraternity manages its own internal affairs. Fraternity meals are served in house dining rooms.

Independent students live in one of four residence halls or in College-owned houses. They choose one meal plan: 19 or 15 meals per week (or 10 meals per week for houses with kitchens). Independent means are served in the dining hall in the Sparks Center.

Wabash assumes no responsibility for loss of or damage to the student's personal property. Each student is encouraged to take appropriate steps to safeguard and insure his property including vehicles or other modes of transportation. We strongly encourage students to confirm that their property is covered by their families' homeowner's insurance or to carry personal property insurance.

Bedding and Linens

Students must provide their own sheets, blankets, pillows, towels, and other personal items. The typical bed in a residence hall is a twin size long, 36" x 80". Bed sizes vary in fraternity houses.

Laundry

All residence halls, and most fraternities, have washers and dryers. There are also several laundromats and dry cleaning establishments in Crawfordsville.

Students' Cars

Wabash students may have cars on campus. Parking spaces, however, are limited.

ID Cards

ID cards are issued to all entering students during orientation. The card is valid for all four years. The ID serves as a library card, may be used to charge photocopies in the library, and is used for admission into the dining hall and athletic events.

Bookstore

The Wabash College Bookstore sells office supplies and clothing in addition to course materials.

Student Health

A registered nurse is on duty at the Student Health Center (2nd floor Allen Center) weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. (765-361-6265). Students may consult the College physicians, Dr. Scott Douglas '84 or Dr. John Roberts '83, weekdays from 11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. in the Student Health Center. Students who need to speak with a nurse or doctor when the Student Health Center is closed should call Dr. Roberts' and Douglas' private office at 765-362-5789.

Appointments: Please call to schedule a time to be seen in the Center. This allows scheduling an appropriate amount of time to see you or perhaps give you advice over the phone. Walk ins will also be seen as time permits. You may also email the college nurse at lambc@wabash.edu.

Insurance: All students are seen free of charge regardless of insurance status. If you require lab testing, X-rays, or referral to a specialist, eye doctor or dentist, you may incur additional charges. The college nurse will be available to answer your insurance questions.

After hours care: For medical problems (Monday-Friday that can't wait until regular hours at the Student Health Center, students may call the private office of Drs. Robert and Douglas at 765-362-5789. For weekend problems that can't wait until Monday, you may go to the after Hours Clinic at 1660 Lafayette Road, 765-359-2088 (across the street from Vickery's Restaurant on St. Road. 231 North). The After Hours Clinic is open Saturday and Sunday 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. It is a walk-in clinic. If you have Wabash student health insurance, please show your card at the time of service. Payment may be expected at the time of service. The After Hours Clinic is not a substitute for the Student Health Center:

Emergencies: For life-threatening emergencies call 911 or go to the St. Clare Medical Center emergency room at 1710 Lafayette Rd., on St. Rd. 231 north of Crawfordsville (765-362-2800).

The College provides health and accident insurance at a reasonable premium. All students are charged for the health plan unless a waiver of the coverage has been filed with the College. The waiver card from the insurance brochure must be received by the Business Office by August 29, 2007.

Payment of Educational Expenses

A statement of account for each semester will be mailed to your son's home address. Your son will also be able to access his statement of account on the Wabash College website via Ask Wally (https://askwally.wabash.edu). The statement for fall semester will be available July 15 with a due date of Aug. 15. The statement for spring semester will be available Dec. 15 with a due date of Jan. 3. A late payment fee of $25 is assessed on unpaid balances after the due date. Finance charges of 12% per year are added on the first of each month. Accounts must be paid in full in order to register for classes.

The statement for each semester will include one half of the charges (tuition, fees, room and board) and one half of the credits (financial aid and payments) for the academic year. The fall statement includes a charge for student health insurance. All students are required to carry health insurance. With the exception of International students. these students covered under a current health insurance policy may waive the student health insurance by submitting a waiver to the College. The waiver is located on the Wabash College website at: www.wabash.edu/businessoffice/docs/Wabash Insurance Waiver. pdf. Student athletes must confirm that their current policy conforms to NCAA rules. The paid admissions deposit will be credited on the statement for first semester for incoming freshmen.

Refunds of Title IV funds are processed in the following order: Pell grant, Stafford loan, PLUS loan. Refunds are available in the Business Office on the first day of classes. A student must attend a class and be counted in the student census before he may collect his refund.

Students will be notified via email when refunds (Title IV or other) are generated after classes start. Checks will be held in the Business Office for 14 days and mailed to home address if not claimed. Wabash College accepts credit cards online at www.wabash.edu/businessoffice/. Families with difficulty paying fees in one payment each semester may consider initiating a monthly payment plan administered by Key Education Resources. Payment are made to Key, who, in turn, pays the College. Each family calculates the total amount required and chooses a payment plan. There are 3 plans available. The 12-month plan begins April 1, the 10-month plan begins June 1, and the 8month plan begins August 1. Key charges a small administrative fee, but no interest. Brochures for Key Education Resources may be obtained from the Admissions Office, the Business Office, the Financial Aid Office, online at www.wabash.edu/business office/plans, or by writing or calling:

Key Education Resources 745 Atlantic Avenue Boston, MA 02111 (800) KEY-LEND

In addition to the amount due to the College, a student will spend an additional amount per year for books, supplies and personal expenses. An average amount for these items is estimated at $2000.

Please direct questions about payment of educational expenses to:

Cathy VanArsdall (765) 361-6421 vanarsdc@wabash.edu

You may also email businessoffice@wabash.edu. Please direct questions about financial aid (loans, grants, scholarships) to the Wabash College Financial Aid Office (800) 718-9746.

Financial Aid

The financial aid process measures a family's ability to contribute to the cost of their student's education from the financial resources available to them at the time that the financial aid applications are completed. Wabash requires families to file two forms: the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the CSS/PROFILE Application. The expected family contribution subtracted from the cost of education determines the student's financial need.

Below are listed some sources of financial assistance available to Wabash students. To receive these forms of assistance, a student must be enrolled full-time at Wabash. Aid will be credited to his account in equal amounts each semester.

Each student should make an effort to seek outside awards to meet his college expenses. All sources of assistance should be reported by the student or the awarding organization soon after notification of the award is received.

Since financial aid is awarded annually, students are responsible for filing financial aid forms between Jan. 1 and Feb. 15 each year to determine financial aid eligibility.

Sources of Financial Aid

Wabash grant and merit-based scholarships

Indiana resident grants

Frank O'Bannon Grant Program (Must file FAFSA each year by March 11)

21st Century Scholarship (Must file FAFSA each year by March 1) Federal Pell Grants

Loans—All loans require a separate application/promissory note Federal Stafford Loan (subsidized & unsubsidized) Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) Wabash College Signature Select Loan

ESH—Students receive bi-weekly direct deposit payments as they work an on-campus job. ESH does not appear as a credit on the student's statement of account unless arrangements are made with the Business Office by signing up for payroll deduction.

Outside awards—local, national, corporate, and private agencies

MISSION STATEMENT

"Wabash College educates men to think critically, act responsibly, lead effectively, and live humanely."

Our Core Values

A rigorous liberal arts education that fosters

- An appreciation for the intellectual and physical aspects of a good life
- An understanding of and appreciation for other cultures

A personal context to teaching and learning that encourages

- Candid, respectful, face-to-face conversations
- Freedom of thought
- A local scholarly community that creates lifelong relationships

Individual responsibility and trust that are

- Based on moral and ethical awareness
- Expressed in the Gentleman's Rule
- Required for leadership and teamwork

A socially, economically, and ethnically diverse student body characterized by

- A dedication to the serious pursuit of learning
- A culture of competition without malice
- A few years of residencee; a lifetime of loyalty

A tradition and philosophy of independence that

- Keeps the College from external control
- Allows the Wabash community to shape significantly its own destiny
- Promotes independence and self-reliance in its students and graduates.
